

Preliminary Inquiry

For serious offences that will proceed to the High Court:

- The Magistrate conducts a Preliminary Inquiry.
- The Court determines whether sufficient evidence exists to commit the defendant for trial.

If committed, the defendant may be required to renew bail pending High Court proceedings.
